

Imaginative Texts (1)

Write the names of the different types of imaginative stories. Continue on the next page.

fairytale	historical story	legend	epic
myth	anecdote	horror	romance
science fiction	adventure	folktale	quest
mystery	paranormal	thriller/action	fable
life story	real-life drama

	An old or traditional story about people and places in a country.
	A short fictional story, often about animals, with a moral which teaches a lesson, eg. Aesop's fables.
	A fantasy story with fairies or magic people or animals; or with archetypal characters such as a heroine, a prince, village people; and enchanted places and events.
	A love story.
	A type of narrative which is exciting and which might have suspenseful, dangerous or scary activity, such as crime, mystery, speed, running, car chases, bombs, crashing, fighting.
	A story about something strange, puzzling, secret, hidden, baffling, not easily understood or explained. We don't know, we wonder about it.
	A story which arouses terror, strong fear, disgust, shock.
	Supernatural; ghosts, vampires, zombies, werewolves, etc.
	Life writing: a story or narrative about someone's life, a biography, autobiography or memoir.
	A story about real-life people and situations.
	A short, interesting, entertaining, amusing or inspiring story about a personal event.

Imaginative Texts (2)

	A type of fiction usually set in another time and another place or universe, with futuristic technology. There might be time travel, space travel, adventure, exploration, discovery, other planets, spaceships, rockets, robots, aliens, danger, fighting, a utopia or dystopia.
	A story based on past events, people, places, things; what happened in the past.
	A larger-than-life story from history, tradition or religion, with a larger-than-life hero and amazing events. It might be partly true, and might demonstrate the values of courage, justice, strength, etc.
	A story or long poem about great events in history, mythology or legend; involving heroes and big action, adventures, and often battles.
	A story from history, tradition or religion; often with supernatural or imaginary beings, such as gods and goddesses; and sometimes giving explanations for natural or social events, such as the creation of the world.
	A narrative about an experience which is new, different, out of the ordinary, unusual, unknown, exciting. It may be risky or dangerous, and require action, struggle, courage, determination.
	A story about a big search, to find or achieve something, such as going to a special place, finding knowledge, or becoming a doctor. The hero or heroine might go on a journey to search for treasure, a magical object, or the answer; or there might be a struggle to overcome evil.
animal story	_____ _____
crime/detective	_____ _____